

FRENCH REPLY TO BERLIN IMPRUDENT STAND OF BRITAIN

Government Will State Own Views in Note to be Sent to Germany Soon

WAY LEFT OPEN FOR FURTHER PARLEY BELIEF IN GERMANY

French-Belgian Note Also Disapproved by Italy?

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—The chamber of the exchange, London, started in the house of commons, Tuesday, that the government regarded the proposition of the French-Belgian note to be sent to Germany as a separate reply to the last possible date. He added there was reason to believe the note was in accord with the British and contemplated similar proposals.

It is understood that the British government regards the action of France and Belgium in making a reply to the German note to the allies as a grave breach of comity. The British government also disapproved the French-Belgian note as a separate reply to the German note. It is understood that the British government also disapproved the French-Belgian note as a separate reply to the German note.

Joint Reply Impossible
The French statement said that the British statement of a joint reply was out of the question since any answer that France and Belgium could give to the German note was bound to be in complete accord with the British position. When it was pointed out that France and Belgium to make a joint reply to the German note, the statement said, but there was still too much disagreement about replying to the note to make it feasible at this time.

Negotiations Not Under
BERLIN.—The German government does not regard the French-Belgian reply as definitely closing the door to negotiations on reparations, although recognizing it is a serious step in the direction of negotiations. It is stated in official quarters that the government believes the note was the door open for further discussion.

It is reiterated that there can be no compromise on the issue of abandoning the passive resistance to occupation of the Ruhr territory. Neither, it is added, can the German government consent to a progressive evacuation of the Ruhr, maintaining its position that the French must withdraw completely from the occupied district before any reparations discussion can proceed.

FAMOUS GERMAN GENERAL PREDICTS MONARCHIST RISING AFTER REPARATION DECISION

WINTER WEATHER AND NEAR BLIZZARD SURPRISE FOR CITY

Snow and Cold Wind to be Followed by Freezing Temperature Wednesday Morning

A sudden change in the weather came as a surprise to citizens of La Crosse Tuesday morning. They had gotten somewhat used to the balmy days of spring, and the fact that a short time ago was nearly forgotten. However they were taken Tuesday morning to find the air filled with flying snowflakes, and the temperature falling with the freezing point.

The frost which was predicted as probable by the weather bureau for Monday night failed to arrive. The lowest temperature recorded was 34 degrees above zero. However, the forecast for Tuesday night and Wednesday morning is for freezing temperatures, with fair skies and rising temperature Wednesday. Wise citizens will protect their gardens and plants, which have already been set out, against the deep in temperature which is predicted.

About noon Tuesday the phenomenon of snow falling to the tune of rumbling thunder occurred.

The defendants were charged with inciting the workmen at the plant to resist the French troops when they came to requisition automobiles. It was held that the directors were responsible for the continuing sounding of the sirens even if they had not ordered that they be blown.

MAYO LABORATORY AT ROCHESTER BURNS LOSS IS $150,000

ROCHESTER, Minn.—No cause has been found for a fire which Monday night destroyed the new animal experiment laboratory on the estate of Dr. Charles H. Mayo, near here. An office building, in process of construction, and a large garage also were destroyed. The loss was estimated at $150,000, fully covered by insurance. Reconstruction of the laboratory will be started at once.

Only 20 rods from the burning buildings and directly down wind, were the kennels of dogs used in experimental work, and the 600 animals were thrown into a panic. The kennels were of fireproof construction, however, and water was poured in volumes upon them as an additional precaution. A large number of guinea pigs and rabbits, quarantined next to the kennels, were also panic-stricken. A sprinkler system had been installed in all of the burned buildings but the pipes had not yet been connected with the waterworks. The buildings were semi-fireproof construction.

The laboratory was one of the largest of its kind in the United States.

The relations between Great Britain and Moscow are regarded as rather critical but the British mission accepts the incident as a regrettable coincidence. The bandit who was the cause of the shooting was seriously wounded.

BOYCOTT ON SUGAR TILL PRICE DROPS IS EBER PROPOSAL

Milwaukeean Would Put Legislation on Record as Backing Blaine Stand

PLAN NOT LOGICAL CLAIM OF POLK COUNTY ASSEMBLYMAN

Boycott Declared Illegal by Price of Juneau

MADISON, Wis.—A joint resolution urging the people of Wisconsin to restrict their use of sugar and continue their boycott on that commodity until "sugar prices become reasonable" was introduced in the assembly today by Assemblyman Eber of Milwaukee. It was referred to the committee on judiciary for consideration and recommendation.

The resolution if adopted, would put the legislature on record as supporting Governor Blaine in his economic stand in favor of a sugar boycott and sets forth that sugar prices are "prohibitive" and that "the practice of fixing prices regardless of supply and demand is intolerable and vicious."

Nelson Opposes Plan

Assemblyman Nelson of Polk county opposed the resolution, declaring "it is a sad commentary on our legislative bodies that we haven't a law to control manipulation in the necessities of life without the legislature having to adopt a resolution of this character." He added that he was "sorry that high public officials have taken a stand in favor of a boycott."

"It would be as logical for the people to go barefooted because the price of shoes is high as to do without sugar because of high prices," he argued. "Let's not cut off our nose to spite our face. If we have no law to control the situation, then let the profiteers gouge us to a point where we will want such a law."

Assemblyman Nelson, in answering Mr. Nelson said the latter's views "were very good in theory, but not practical in solving the sugar price problem. We have no regulatory law dealing with sugar and our only remedy is by public sacrifice and boycott to bring the price of sugar to reasonable levels."

Illegal Says Price

Assemblyman Price of Juneau pointed out that it is illegal for two or more persons to organize a boycott and declared under the word "boycott" were eliminated from the resolution, the assembly would be violating the law in adopting it.

Assemblyman Matheson, of Rock county, shut off further debate by insisting that the resolution follow its regular course and be referred to committee.

BLAINE TAX BILL FOES TO ATTEMPT TO FORCE CHANGE

Number of Amendments to be Offered When Measure Comes up Thursday

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—When Governor Blaine's general income tax bill reaches the senate Thursday it will face a barrage of intended amendments, which if adopted will completely change the effect of the measure. Senators will then ask that the proposal go over until the following week before action is taken in order that the suggested changes may be studied.

Only one amendment will be pending at the time the bill is reached on the calendar, recommended by the finance committee for indefinite postponement. This would remove the question of the governor's bill making the tax commission a one-man commission. The governor is understood to be willing to accept this change. His one-man commission plan was proposed, it is understood, in an effort to get Judge Charles D. Rosa off the tax body.

Many Amendments to Come

The Socialists have a variety of proposed changes that will be submitted, according to Assemblyman Thomas Egan, Milwaukee. Acceptance of these amendments would transform the governor's bill into much the same form of measure as that sponsored by Speaker John L. Dahl of the assembly. They include complete repeal of the present tax law, where large numbers of them are reported to be hiding, according to reports received by the Central News. Heavy firing was heard near Blessington, and later more than a dozen prisoners were brought into that town.

Blaine to Fight Changes

Leaders of both factions say that all proposed amendments probably will be defeated. Governor Blaine in his special message declared that the structure of this bill could not be altered without emasculating the whole proposal. This is taken to indicate his position on the bill. It was at no time in serious danger.

FIRE CHIEF WARNS AUTOISTS AGAINST IMPEDING APPARATUS

City, State Laws Quoted Which Define Rules for Vehicle Drivers to Observe

ARREST THREATENED FOR THOSE GUILTY OF ANY INFRACTIONS

Arterial Highway Plan Favored to Relieve Traffic Congestion

BECAUSE of recent collisions between fire apparatus and vehicles on the streets of La Crosse, Fire Chief McGlachlin and City Attorney Swensen have issued a warning to drivers of automobiles, horse drawn vehicles and street car crews to observe the city ordinances and state laws governing street traffic when fire apparatus is passing over city streets and alleys in response to fire alarms.

Other Vehicles Must Stop
"All vehicles on streets and alleys are required to come to a stop and remain standing upon the approach of any fire apparatus and until the passage of all fire apparatus at any point on the public streets and alleys of the city," said Chief McGlachlin.

"The state and city laws require that all vehicles that do not run on rails draw up to the curb as soon as the approach of fire apparatus is learned either through sight or sound of sirens or bells. The laws say that street cars shall stop at once in such manner as to permit the best possible passage of the fire apparatus unobstructed."

"These laws are made to protect the person and property of persons on the public streets and likewise to facilitate the movement of fire apparatus when needed. Infraction of these rules will not be excused and any violator will be taken into court without further warning or notice."

Moister for Arterial Highway

S. L. Meister, secretary of the Automobile Club of Western Wisconsin, when interviewed Tuesday morning, said that in his opinion the arterial highway system was a good thing, but he thought that the citizens of La Crosse and the police department should make a strenuous effort to enforce the existing ordinances regarding automobiles and traffic before any new systems are introduced.

"The ordinances which we have now take care of the situation if they are properly enforced," said Mr. Meister, "and they will take care of it without causing a hardship to anyone. The arterial highway system is a good thing, but if it is introduced here it will result in a great deal of confusion until people are thoroughly acquainted with it."

"There never has been a real effort made to enforce existing traffic ordinances," continued Mr. Meister. "I believe that the thing we need most at this time is enforcement, not a change of the system."

Decide on Ransom

Two escaped Chinese passengers, arriving at Tientsin related that the captives were marched ten miles into the hills and there classified by the bandits chiefly according to their probable worth. After questioning it was decided that foreigners would be held for a ransom of $50,000 each, Chinese of the first class for $30,000 each, those of the second class for $10,000, and those held to be of lower value for $2,000.

Chinese Editor Freed

The Chinese newspaper, Shun Pao, published in Shanghai, reported that Gang Tung, its Sunday editor, was captured and released.

The brigands are said to be splitting into groups with their captives and scattering into the hills twenty miles from the railway.

KINKS IN PEDDLERS' LAW STRAIGHTENED OUT IN NEW BILL

State Treasury Agent Working to Eliminate Disputes on Fair Grounds

Referring to a bill pending in the legislature, designed to straighten out confusing points in the old law licensing hawkers and peddlers, especially with reference to enforcement of the statute on fair grounds, State Treasury Agent C. R. Ballard wrote E. E. Blaschke, local treasury agent, in part as follows:

This law was drafted for the purpose of leaving a tax on the peddler of the state, to prevent unfair competition to merchants, to protect citizens from fraud or misrepresentation in the sale of merchandise, to eliminate certain forms of peddling which had become a nuisance, and also to protect the treasury agent from the expense of enforcing the law.

At the opening of the last session last fall this department was attempting to enforce this law on fair grounds according to a ruling of Attorney General W. C. Cullen, now a member of the Supreme Court, which was given on Jan. 11, 1933. This ruling was based on the fact that the law was intended to regulate peddling on fair grounds, and not on the sale of merchandise on the street.

MADISON, Wis.—The resignation of C. D. Norgord as commissioner of agriculture will, he said, be sent to Governor Blaine within the next few days. It is learned, Mr. Norgord, it is understood, has definitely accepted a position as assistant commissioner of agriculture of New York at a salary of $7,000 and with an indefinite term of office.

The commissioner of agriculture has been unable to arrange a conference with Governor Blaine to tell him of his intended resignation. For nearly two years the governor is said to have avoided seeing the head of the state's agriculture department.

Mr. Norgord has devoted 20 years to the development of agriculture in Wisconsin, first as a professor at the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture and then as state commissioner.

FIRE DESTROYS SKI SLIDE AT WINONA; DAMAGE IS $1,000

WINONA, Minn.—The scaffold of Winona's ski slide on Garvin Heights was Sunday in ruins as a result of a fire which almost entirely destroyed it early Saturday evening. The loss was estimated by E. H. Doehner, chairman of the Winona Chamber of Commerce, at approximately $1,000. There was no insurance.

An investigation was being conducted by Fire Chief W. C. Norton to determine how the fire started. Three young boys, whose names are not known, were seen near the slide shortly before the fire was noticed and it is believed these boys were playing with matches near the foot of the slide and may have set fire to the hay which partially covered it. The hay was placed on the slide to serve as a buffer for the snow before the slide. In January, and arrangements had been made some time ago to have it removed, Mr. Doehner said.

DETROIT BOYS' CONTEST
THEY KILLED GIRL
DETROIT, Mich.—Max Novak, 19, and Edward Price, 17, confessed Monday, the police announced, that they killed Helene Yesh, 17, in a vacant lot here last Sunday, choking her when she resisted their advances.

The two young men were held after they had notified persons in a house near the vacant lot that a woman had fainted. They at first declared they had discovered the girl, who died a few minutes after being removed to the house.

MANY OLD-FASHIONED FLOWERS ADD BEAUTY AND HELP HIDE THE UGLY SPOTS

By W. R. BEATTIE
Extension Horticulturist, United States Department of Agriculture

The craze for flowers of the more expensive and popular class has been the cause of old-fashioned flowers being forgotten. The common flowers, however, have an important place in our scheme of gardening and in fact, are worthy of more attention on the part of everyone who plants a garden.

Among the many advantages of zinnias and other annual flowering plants in their class are small cost and quick results. Where it is desired to have a border of flowers along the vegetable garden and back of each of zinnia, marigold, cockscomb, phlox and astoria will supply a variety of pleasing color from mid-summer until frost.

By starting the plants in the house and transplanting them to the garden they will bloom considerably earlier. The easy way, however, is to sow the seeds in the place where the plants are to grow.

Castor Beans
Where something large is wanted to hide an unsightly background plant a double row of castor beans, using the large bronze sort for the back and the dwarf green sort for the front row. A few plants of cosmos and a row of zinnias in front, so that a complete screen will be formed.

Sunflowers, not the very large kind, but the smaller ones are very effective for mixing with the other flowers in the garden. A good plan is to tie the cut flowers together in small bunches by their stems, then wrap in newspaper, leaving the ends of the package open and hang in a cool, dry place.

After all, there is nothing equal to zinnias and a number of others of their class for quick results in hiding a fence or some such unsightly background. As time goes on a screen of shrubbery and more permanent plants can be planted.

WATCHMAN SLUGGED BODY IS CREMATED

MERRILL, Wis.—Authorities here are without a clue to the identity of the bandits who Sunday night slugged John Schilke, night watchman at the Kaul Hub plant here, and let his unconscious body lie over the opening of a Dutch oven where it was later found, partly cremated.

A coroner's jury Monday returned a verdict that Schilke came to his death at the hands of one or more assailants. That robbery was the motive is believed to be indicated by the fact that the dead man's money and watch were missing.

U. S. COMMITTEE LAUNCHES DRIVE TO SAVE FORESTS

Conferees Gathering Data in Michigan and Will Later
Come to Wisconsin

DETROIT, Mich.—The committee on reforestation, appointed by the senate at the last session of congress, assembled in Detroit Monday to begin a tour of the great lakes states in its nation-wide search for a solution of the problem of the rapidly disappearing woods.

The information it receives from the lumbermen who will appear before it during the next few days in Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota, will form the basis in part of the program of legislation which it will recommend to congress when it reconvenes in December.

Meet With Henry Ford

The members lunched with Henry Ford and his son, Edsel, at Dearborn. Mr. Ford owns considerable timberland in the upper Michigan peninsula. He told the committee that the best practical way in his opinion to meet the timber problem was to promote the policy of selective cutting and urge the owners to keep the forests clear of brush as a safeguard against destructive fires.

The committee will go to Grand Rapids, where it will hear the views of the furniture manufacturers. It will hold brief hearings in Chicago on Thursday, and then move on to Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The particular phases of the forest problem which the committee is investigating are fire protection; taxation to encourage conservation; economies in cutting and use of lumber; government ownership of timber lands; and promotion of substitutes for wood.

Great Lakes Far Behind

Time was, not long ago, that Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota rivaled each other as the greatest lumber-producing states of the nation. As late as 1900, Wisconsin was the leading lumber-producing state. The lake states were forced to surrender their lumber supremacy to the south and the south in turn has given up to the far west.

BLAINE WILL NAME HALL TO ONE-MAN CONSERVATION BODY

MADISON, Wis.—The A. E. Smith bill for a one-man conservation commission is before Governor John J. Blaine for his signature.

Immediately after the signing of the bill, the name of Blaine S. Hall will be sent to the legislature for confirmation as commissioner. Mr. Hall is now one of the three commissioners, having been appointed by Gov. Blaine to take the place of W. E. Barber who resigned. He will appoint Draxton Webster and C. L. Harrington, present commissioners, as his assistants.

The creation of a one-man conservation commission is the fulfillment of another plan of the governor's. The commissioner will serve for six years at a salary of $5,000 a year. Mr. Webster is an expert on fisheries and Mr. Harrington will be the forestry expert of the office.

Public Debate

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL.
Editor, La Crosse Tribune and Leader-Press.

Please give me the space enough in the Public Debate column to apologize to the La Crosse County Community Council and Mrs. L. C. Thompson, chairman of Citizenship and Patriotism, in the matter of a Memorial Road. I was unaware of all of the facts until I read your issue of May 7, 1923. My purpose was to commend those responsible for the planting of the tree which was done a year ago and to suggest that the project be carried out all the way to Madison, and that the road be named in honor of the tree which it should be, viz., to all of the people in the county.

Since reading Mrs. Thompson's contribution, I have learned from her that the plan of the La Crosse County Community Council was approved and carried out, and that the tree was planted by the West last week. The whole thing being completed before our return. For this reason I was not concerned with the activities of the La Crosse County Community Council and the action of the County Board.

It is really gratifying to learn that you told the same story and that they are already being carried out. I have to thank you for presenting the matter in the Public Debate column.

As much as no harm has been done, and possibly some good, there is a hummer as to the whole thing. To our former Mayor was given the credit, he recently made a statement to the effect that very little publicity was required in order to get the Public Debate column. I am so glad that he was right, for in spite of my ignorance of all the facts above referred to, I got it.

Very powerfully the La Crosse County Community Council to take and other good work which that organization is doing.

Sincerely,
A. T. RASMUSSEN.

IN THE SPORT MIRROR

BASEBALL FANS have been arguing, pro and con, since Sunday's game here, over the decision made by Umpire George Keogan when he retired the Nelsons in the third inning after Shields had flied out to left field and Schaefer, batting out of turn, had knocked a fly ball which was caught, to right field. Keogan held that Schaefer was out when his fly to right field was fielded legally, and that Guss, who followed Schaefer in the batting order, was automatically out. Farrington was the man who was supposed to follow Shields, and the one in whose turn Schaefer batted.

Some of the fans take a position against Keogan's decision, claiming that there were but two outs when the Nelsons took the field, namely Shields who flied out and Farrington for missing his turn at bat. They claim that under the rules, Farrington should have been declared out, with the catcher getting credit for the put out, and that Schaefer should have been sent back to bat in his regular order. Rule 51, Section 1, of the official rules says: "The batsman is out if he fails to take his position at the bat in the order in which his name appears on the batting list, unless the error be discovered and the proper batsman replace him before he becomes a base runner, in which case the balls and strikes called must be counted in the time at bat of the proper batsman. But only the proper batsman shall be declared out and no runs shall be scored or bases run because of any act of the improper batsman."

Baseball dopsters generally have interpreted this rule to mean that Schaefer's act in batting out of turn should be disregarded altogether, that Farrington should have been called out, and that Schaefer should have been sent back to the plate to bat in his proper turn.

An explanation of the rule, given in the Spaulding rule book, states that "the batter who missed his turn is out, and his successor goes to bat again, this time as the proper batter."

The put-out, according to Rule 55, Section 6, in any case where the batsman is called out by the umpire for an illegally batted ball, or for failure to bat in proper order, shall be scored to the catcher.

In the box score of Sunday's game published in Monday's Tribune, Franzini should have been credited with 11 put-outs, instead of 10.

"Siv" McCauley, Montague hurler, has been dismissed from the college baseball team at Columbia college, Dubuque, because of his request not to be used on the mound in Saturday's game so that he might be able to work for the Montagues in the opening game here.

McCauley, early in the year, notified school authorities that he had signed to pitch for the Montagues at La Crosse, and that he would at least be expected to work in the opening game, which, as far as is known, was agreeable to the school at that time.

The recent trouble, which has led to McCauley's refusal to participate further in all athletics at Columbia, came about when he asked not to be used in Saturday's game against Luther. Tracing the matter down, the Dubuque Telegraph-Herald learned that McCauley took a position in the field and when he came in to the bench, was notified that since he could not pitch, his services were no longer required.

McCauley had pitched two games for Columbia earlier in the week, and it was in plain justice to the Montagues that he had requested not to be used in Saturday's game. True, Columbia was up against a hard proposition in the Luther aggregation Saturday, but three games in a week is too much for a pitcher, and McCauley had previously given notice that he would be required to work in the opening game for the local club.

It has not been the intention of the Montague management to infringe upon "Siv" McCauley's athletic activity at Columbia college during the spring term, realizing that he owes a duty to his school. For this reason they had intended to do as best they could without him until his school term was up, requesting only that he pitch the opener.

On the day previous Columbia had played its third conference game, winning from the Paul University at Chicago 10-8.

Stengel, left fielder of the Giants, and Weimer, pitcher of the Phillies, were banded in the fourth inning after a lively exchange of blows. PENNANT CHAMPIONSHIP RACE IN INTER-STATE CONFERENCE NARROWS DOWN TO FOUR TEAMS

The race for the baseball championship of the Western Interstate Conference to which the La Crosse Normal claims membership, narrowed down to four this week. St. Viator College, for two years champion of Illinois with an average of sixteen runs per game in ten contests, jumped into the lead by virtue of a 7-1 victory over Columbia.

On the day previous Columbia had played its third conference game, winning from the Paul University at Chicago 10-8. La Crosse normal is undefeated, having beaten Plattville Saturday, 11 to 7.

That the conference pennant fight is as close as had been anticipated is apparent from the fact that most of the games to date have been extra inning affairs. DePaul, Luther, Valparaiso, and Columbia furnishing the entertainment in these contests.

Valparaiso University, Indiana's contender for conference honors, is still undefeated, and will meet St. Viator during the coming week. Coach Kelly's men have the edge on advance dope.

The Columbia-Luther 13-inning scoreless tie was a classic, but on the return engagement Luther won a well deserved 5 to 3 victory. Columbia is permanently out of the race because Card, McCauley was declared ineligible.

NEW YORK.—Jack McAuliffe, 11, is the least known in pugilistic circles of any of the four main performers in the Milk fund show at the Yankee stadium next Saturday afternoon, but the Detroit boxer is chock full of confidence. He is matched with Luis Angel Firpo, the South American mauler, in a 15 round contest preceding the Jess Willard-Floyd Johnson encounter.

"Firpo has no fears for me," thus does McAuliffe sum up his case. The westerner is undaunted by the imposing knockout record of the Argentinian and the fact that in his last engagement Firpo battered the veteran Bill Brennan to such an extent that the latter was taken to a hospital with concussion of the brain.

McAuliffe refers to his own knockout record as an answer to Firpo's punching prowess. It shows that he has scored sixteen knockouts in seventeen bouts.

Floyd Johnson, who is matched with Jess Willard in the final bout on Saturday's program, is the only man who has remained the limit with McAuliffe, according to the records. Floyd and Jack battled six rounds at Tacoma, Wash., in 1922, and the latter was awarded the referee's decision.

McAuliffe's last knockout was over Hattie Walker in three rounds. The others, all scored before the end of the seventh round, were against comparatively unknowns.

JAP INVASION TO START SOON UNDER AUSPICES OF U. S.

But it's Only Bugs that are Coming Over to War on Gypsy Moth

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A Japanese invasion of America, engineered by an employee of the United States government itself, will be undertaken within the next two months.

Though the invading forces will arrive at Pacific ports, the center of their operations will be in New England.

The little yellow invaders are flies, and their job is to make life miserable for the gypsy moth which is playing havoc with New England orchards. Entomologically, they are a species of "parasites." In everyday language they are parasites in the sense that they use the caterpillar of the gypsy moth as hatching places for their eggs.

The man who is rounding up the parasite army, Dr. John Summers, of the U. S. Forest Service, landed in Japan last week and called on Japanese fly-catchers to bring in recruits.

As fast as these are obtained in regimental units, they will be embarked for Boston and the battlefields.

Summers has covered a large section of the globe rounding up parasites to prey on other parasites. His job is to pick the insects that are harmless to man and animal life but are deadly enemies of other and harmful insects, and, sick the good bugs on the bad ones.

EASTERN ORTHODOX CHURCH ACCEPTS ANGLICAN ORDERS

Officials of the Episcopal church here were informed Monday that the validity of Anglican Orders has been accepted by the Holy Synod of the Eastern Orthodox church. A copy of the decision, signed by His Eminence, the Patriarch Meletios of Jerusalem, which was forwarded to the Archbishop of Canterbury, has been handed to Rev. Thomas F. Gailor, D. D., president of the National Council of the Episcopal church by Archbishop Pantoleon, representing the Eastern Orthodox church, and by Bishop Gailor the decision has been dispatched to the various dioceses of the American church.

This action follows and accepts a similar action of the Holy Synod of Constantinople. Confirming the news, Epiphanius, chief secretary to Patriarch Meletios, told the archbishop that the recognition of the validity of the Anglican Episcopal church, and the orders of priests and deacons of the Anglican Episcopal church, are considered by the Orthodox church as having the same validity which the orders of the Roman church have, because there exists all the elements which are considered necessary from an Orthodox point of view for the recognition of the grace of Holy Orders from Apostolic Succession. "We have great pleasure in communicating to your grace, as the first hierarch of all Anglican churches, this recognition of our church which constitutes progress in the pleasing to God's work of the union of all churches."

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multi-purposed cocoon oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Multi-purposed cocoon oil shampoo in a cup of water with a little warm water. Then moisten your hair with water and rub the Multi-purposed cocoon oil shampoo into the hair and scalp thoroughly. The cocoon oil dissolves dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multi-purposed cocoon oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multi-purposed.

Homesickness Caused Payne to Write Immortal Song

Home, Sweet Home!

*'Mid pleasures and palaces though we may roam,
Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home!
A charm from the sky seems to hallow us there
Which, sooth through the world is not felt with cheer!
Home! Home! Sweet, sweet home!
There's no place like home!
There's no place like home!*

*An echo from home—London, dapper, but true—
Oh, give me my lovely thatched cottage again!
The birds singing gayly that come at my call—
Give me them— with the peace of mind dearer than all!*

*Home, home! Sweet, sweet home!
There's no place like home!
There's no place like home!*

*John Howard Payne /
Washington City, Sept. 13, 1841*

For Sure I'll be Committed

JOHN HOWARD PAYNE'S ORIGINAL WRITING OF "HOME SWEET HOME," THE BACKGROUND IS THE HOME THAT HE LONGED FOR WHEN HE WROTE HIS INSPIRED CLASSIC

NEW YORK.—One hundred years ago, a young American composer, John Howard Payne, stood at a window of his London apartment. He was homesick. Three thousand miles separated him from his home, and the great distance from the beloved cottage at East Hampton, L. I., enured at his heart.

He watched the crowds, gay, colorful throngs in the street below. Finally, he could stand it no longer. Payne, who then was 32, crossed the room, sat at his desk, and the words that he drew from his soul have lived ever since as "Home, Sweet Home."

"It is ever so humble, there's no place like home,"

Payne, a man of the world despite his years, meant that.

Uniting in Celebration

And now, one hundred years after the homesick man wrote the words destined to be repeated at one time or another by every English speaking man or woman in the world, musicians of England and America are uniting in celebration.

"Home, Sweet Home" was but one number in a musical offering "Clara, the Maid of Milan." It is the only number to survive.

The impression once held that Payne, when he wrote the words, was a "homesick author" and down-and-out, has been shattered a long time. He was far from that.

Born in 1791 in New York City, Payne entered Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., at an early age. While there, as editor of a magazine, he wrote a poem he called "Home Dear Home." It was this poem that was rewritten years later, into the one we all know.

Became Actor

Payne soon developed a liking for the stage. His parents objected, and he turned his talents to theatrical writing.

When he left college, his parents were bankrupt. No longer did he deny the call of the stage. Virtually his first appearance, at the old Park Theater, New York, was a complete success. In a short while, he sailed for London, the first American actor to invade that country.

Once there, however, he developed

"Home" generally is credited to Henry E. Bishop. Payne has said it is an adaptation of an Italian folk song he heard a maid of Italy humming.

At the age of 61, Payne died in Tunis.

In 1882, 30 years after his death, the remains were brought back, and buried in his beloved native soil, the land about which he wrote.

And so on this hundredth anniversary, "Home Sweet Home" is being played in every theater in the land, in millions of homes and is being broadcast from the giant radio station at Schenectady, scene of his college days.

Chinese postoffice estimates are that Tientsin, a city of more than 800,000 inhabitants, has 57,000 unemployed persons at present.

He composed "Home, Sweet Home" on a dull September day. And while the play was written for profit, the words of the one song in it that has survived, came from his heart. They were inspired.

On May 8, 1828, it received its first condition before a small London audience. The city went wild. Payne's name had gone down indelibly into the future.

The music of "Home, Sweet Home" was composed by Thomas Moore.

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-cracked, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunioned, tortured feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "TIZ." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

A few cents buys a box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel.

Once there, however, he developed

INGENUITY OF PROHIBITION OFFICIALS TAXED TO KEEP PACE WITH THE BOOTLEGGERS

MADISON, Wis.—Keeping up with the latest innovations of Wisconsin's bootleggers takes constant schooling for the state's dry sleuths. Just when they have decided that they have solved the latest wrinkle, W. Stanley Smith, state prohibition commissioner, says they find that hooch transporters have adopted improved methods.

Several cans of a supposedly orchard spray solution sent to Wisconsin towns from Chicago recently came to the attention of the prohibition department. Examination showed that the cans contained pure grain alcohol. A can with commercial labels intact containing 40 gallons of the concentrated "fire water" was found at Sparta. A 20 gallon can was taken out of the express office at Bangor.

JOHN DUFFY'S SONS HONORED BY TOWN, CALEDONIA CREAMERY

CALEDONIA, Minn.—E. J. and Robert Duffy, sons of the late John Duffy, for thirty-two years town clerk, have been recently appointed to places of trust in the town and in the Caledonia co-operative creamery. Robert Duffy has been given the place of town clerk while his brother has accepted the office of secretary of the creamery.

The latest boy wonder is "How long before vacation?"

Shipment of the alleged orchard spray was made to men who were not known in the towns to which the liquid was sent. It is believed that the receiver was to have been the distributor.

Recent disclosures show that the trunk method has been used extensively to bring liquor into Wisconsin from Chicago. Advance agents solicit orders. They stay at a hotel and presently their trunks arrive and are delivered to their rooms. Then clients come and take the wet goods that they have ordered and the transactions are completed.

With the exception of moonshine and wine that is made within the state most of the liquor that finds its way into Wisconsin towns is traced to Chicago.

FRANCE CONSIDERS RETALIATION FOR DRY SHIPS RULING

PARIS.—By The Associated Press. Strong hopes prevail in France that some way will be found out of the complications arising from the recent decision of the supreme court of the United States that foreign ships cannot bring wines or liquors inside the three-mile limit of that country. If French ships were subject to the court's ruling a strict enforcement of French laws applicable to foreign shipping would be considered.
